Michelle Couch named 'General Manager of the Year'

Chanhasen, MN (October 14, 2015) - Ledgestone Hospitality, a leading hospitality management company, has spent the last six years building a strong and competitive portfolio featuring varied brands and destination markets around the country. This success could not have been met without the hard work and dedication of each and every one of the General Managers over the years. During the annual managers' budget meeting on October 7, 2015, Ledgestone Hospitality announced Michelle Couch as company's 'General Manager of the Year'.

Michelle joined the Ledgestone team at the Carrollton Inn in Carroll, Iowa, in December of 2014. Her professional expertise had an immediate impact on revenues at the property, leading to record sales. Her leadership through a full property renovation has led to continued success. Through her significant strides in both operations and customer service, Michelle continues to demonstrate strong leadership while generating impressive business results.

With over twenty years in the hospitality industry, Michelle has experience working in varying hotel settings. "Managing an independent hotel presents a different set of challenges and opportunities," said Michelle. "I'm fortunate to have Ledgestone Hospitality's depth of experience to draw on. We have put a winning team in place at the Carrollton Inn."
